

SoftwareOne Express Marketplace

Fast agile software & cloud procurement

In today's fast-paced world of IT-enabled transformation and constant change, businesses like yours face the challenge of procuring software products from a myriad of vendors efficiently. With an ever-growing number of suppliers you need to deal with, how can you keep up?

Enter SoftwareOne Express Marketplace – rapidly access the very best pricing for many of your frequently requested products from leading software and cloud vendors.

Instead of getting lost in the complexities of sourcing quotations, negotiating prices and contracts, and managing hundreds suppliers, we make it easy for you. Our Express Marketplace service has been designed to streamline your software and cloud procurement process for leading software vendors, enabling you to respond swiftly to your business needs while reducing related spending and overheads.

Our global team of certified vendor experts is ready to provide you with speedy pricing and delivery information, cutting down procurement time and administration – which can otherwise take days or even weeks.

How it works...

- Select the products you require from a catalogue of frequently requested products from leading software vendors.
- Your enquiries are routed via our new technology platform to our team of accredited vendor experts, so you receive rapid quotations with favourable commercial terms
- Procure from one trusted partner instead of many individual vendors, resulting in savings on software, cloud, and overhead costs

Don't let software procurement slow you down. Embrace SoftwareOne Express Marketplace service and experience a streamlined approach to software procurement like no other.

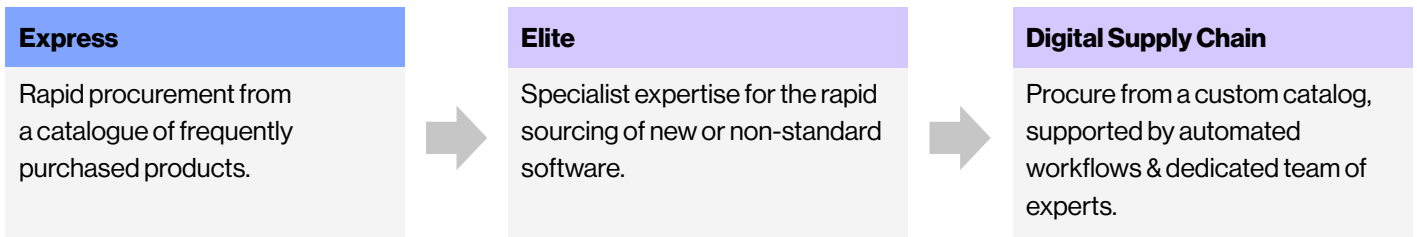

Reasons to partner with us...

- 1. One-stop-shop: Procure all your software and cloud services from one reliable partner, not thousands
- 2. Selection & speed: Simplify your procurement process, receive detailed quotations rapidly in order to make informed purchasing decisions
- 3. Leading experts: Benefit from the commercial and contractual knowledge and support of our global team of specialist publishers and ISV experts
- 4. Efficient operations: Streamline your organisation's IT procurement and administration, freeing up resources for strategic goals and initiatives.
- 5. Drive agility & innovation: Accelerating software deployment supports transformation and the introduction of new services, ultimately reducing the time to value of your software investments.

In a world where time and agility are now crucial, SoftwareOne's Express Marketplace has your back. Let us simplify your software and cloud procurement journey, so you can focus on driving your business forward. Get started with us today!
