SoftwareOne appoints Stephan Timme as new Regional President DACH

New DACH leader to spearhead the company's growth in the region and ensure that customers are able to drive their digital and business transformation

Stans, Switzerland | 15 November 2023 – SoftwareOne, a leading global provider of software and cloud solutions, today announces the appointment of Stephan Timme as its new Regional President DACH. From mid-January 2024, Timme will take over the management of the DACH region with the aim of supporting customers' digital transformation journeys while accelerating SoftwareOne's growth in software, cloud, data and AI and delivering customer excellence.

With over 22 years in the technology industry, Timme has already gained experience at industry giants such as SAP and IBM as well as a software start-up. Most recently, he was Senior Vice President of the Service Industries division at SAP Germany. Before joining the German Management Board there in 2021, he held senior positions including COO of SAP Switzerland and Regional Vice President for SMEs in Europe.

With the appointment of Stephan Timme as the new Regional President, SoftwareOne has strengthened its leadership bench and expertise in software and cloud offerings. Together with his team, Timme will further expand the company's software and cloud services and reselling business, supporting customers with innovative solutions.

"I have come to know Stephan Timme as a leader who focusses equally on customers and employees," explains Brian Duffy, CEO of SoftwareOne. "He has a lot of energy, never loses sight of the future and shares our values. These are all qualities that do justice to the size and potential of the DACH region. I am convinced that Stephan will successfully lead and further develop SoftwareOne in the DACH region."

"I am very much looking forward to leading the DACH region in the future. Joining SoftwareOne at this exciting time, with so many opportunities in the DACH market, is a great move for me personally and I am thrilled to be at the cutting edge of supporting companies in their digital transformation," says Stephan Timme. "Companies need reliable and competent partners who can help them define the best path across the available cloud, data and AI solutions and offerings on the market. SoftwareOne is the perfect partner for companies in the DACH region."
