

Ensure CONTROL of your COMPLIANCE and SPENDING in this work-from-home time

With SoftwareONE's SAMSimple focus on monitoring and optimizing your fundamental business resource - software.

Organizations have no choice today – they must provide employees with the resources they need to continue to do their job – no matter where their “office” may be. However, risk and governance of their software estate can't take a back seat to communication and collaboration needs.

To prevent any unnecessary business impact due to the current rapid changes, SoftwareONE's SAMSimple managed service can help you get back visibility over endpoints even in the current work-from-home movement.

SAMSimple has always been there for you to better understand your compliance position, enable cost savings potential and maintain protection during an audit. In these uncertain times, SoftwareONE will ensure that for the next 6 months all of that is maintained at no cost to your business.
